

Recent Health Problems?

Another bad day at work, I can't wait to get home where I know I'm in a safer environment. When they had that new meter installed at work, my days became long and painful. I'm glad they haven't installed that transmitting utility (AMR) meter at my house.

Oh man, I spoke too soon about their not installing that AMR/ smart meter at my house.

This is killing me. Now even my house is unsafe for me.

I keep getting headaches and can't sleep, but I guess I'm doing better than some of my friends. One has heart palpitations, another gets bad skin rashes. Others are getting new allergies, asthma, and neurological problems.

I want my old utility meter and my health back.

These transmitting smart meters are a DUMB idea!

STOP
Installation of Transmitting Utility Meters
NOW!!!!

Go to www.electricalpollution.com for more information.

“At present we have NO guide lines from any state or national health agency as to how this type of meter may affect human health”

Statement from the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin, signed by Scott Cullen P.E. the Chief Engineer of Gas and Energy Division on April 12th, 2006